From the desk of Father Koys

Dear Parishioners,

There is a feeling in today's gospel, that the rich young man should have quit while he was ahead. He tells Jesus, "I have kept all these things". Bingo. He should have said, "Thank you Lord, now I'm assured of my salvation." But he doesn't. I think he speaks for us all when we come to that realization that we are made for greatness, not just to get by. It is interesting to note that Pope John Paul II uses this story to begin his major Encyclical Veritatis Splendor. This is because PJPII knows that he needs to help us understand the Catholic moral teachings within the context of the "fulness of the faith". He knows that there are some moral issues that keep people away from embracing the fulness of the faith. He knows there are circumstances when the easy answer isn't the right answer. In Veritatis Splendor, he takes on some of the most popular Catholic moral theologians who have twisted Catholic morality. They have twisted what the Church has taught in an attempt to ease the consciences of people who are faced with difficult moral decisions. Let's consider the rejection of Humanae Vitae. This obviously deals with birth control. Consider the couple that is financially struggling and believe they can't afford another child. The world tells them, "Ignore the Catholic position on artificial contraception, those men in Rome are clueless about real life. Only those "fanatical Catholics" obey that stuff." But PJPII was well aware that this advice was coming, not just from "worldly voices" but from theologians, bishops and priests. These theologians justified disobedience about this by simply stating that the Church got it wrong on this one. But PJPII was much more like Christ in this Encyclical. He knew people's difficult situations and he knew people were weak when it came to making certain sacrifices in order to do the right thing. His approach was compassionate and yet consistent with the unchanging teachings about sexual morality. In short, he declared the dissenting theologians wrong because we cannot change the natural law that Humanae Vitae is based on. But his direct attack against "consequentialism" and "relativism" which the dissenting voices promoted, put such difficult moral issues in the context of being "great Catholics" not just Catholics who do the minimal to be saved. This is why both PJPII and Pope Benedict often included a teaching on martyrdom when they taught about morality. In other words, they knew that difficult circumstance at times put us in a very tight spot. Holding to the high ideals of following Christ will often put us in the shoes of that rich young man. It is always tempting to walk away from what Jesus asks of us. Both PJPII and B-16 understood Christ's message. Sometimes, the only right answer to a very difficult choice is martyrdom. We often are asked to accept the negative consequences of not sinning, rather than taking the easy way out and offending God. Is our disobedience forgivable? Yes, of course it is, if you are sorry. But the dissenting theologians declare there is nothing to be sorry about. Thank God PJPII came along when he did. We need him now more than ever.

Fr Thomas Koys, M.A., S.T.L.

Dear Parishioners,

October is proving to be busy for our school community. For service this month, we are working with the parish to support the Baby Bottle Collection for the Women's Center. Thank you to everyone for helping with this worthwhile project. Our Student Council is also preparing a variety of events to celebrate Red Ribbon Week and Halloween.

We joined with parishioners to celebrate the Feast of St. Francis of Assisi on October 4th. Enjoy the photos we are including.

Last Thursday parents and teachers met for this year's first conference. The school staff decided to schedule conferences earlier in the year giving them the opportunity to discuss each child's progress and develop plans sooner in the year.

We will soon be entering the month of November. It will be a short month due to time off for Thanksgiving, but as usual it will include a great deal of classroom work and learning projects. This will include report cards, Grandparents Day, and our school's Thanksgiving Feast!

As always, we thank you for your continued support and commitment to SS. Cyril and Methodius School.

All the best,
Mrs. S. Tkachuk

 World Mission Sunday ~
 Next weekend, we celebrate World Mission Sunday, a powerful reminder of our call to be missionary disciples.

This year's theme, "Go and invite everyone to the banquet," emphasizes our common call to bring God's love and message to the ends of the earth. On this day we reflect on and support the Church's missionary efforts while also recommitting ourselves to the same mission. The contributions given for the World Mission Sunday collections are crucial for sustaining the Church's work in over 1,150 territories where the Church is still young or struggling. Let us prepare our hearts and minds to celebrate together.

Advance Medical Directives: Planning for Your Future

Read the full version at respectlifeprogram.org/advance-directives.

Human life is good and to be protected. All medical decisions ought to reflect this core belief. Yet some medical and legal documents used to define a patient's future care can be harmful. No matter how well-crafted, they can't predict all the possible scenarios and best courses of action. In each set of circumstances, we need to judge whether a given treatment will provide real benefit to the patient, without causing harm or disproportionate burdens. The safest option is to designate a health care agent to make decisions if you become incapable of doing so. It's best to appoint a responsible, trustworthy person who understands and shares your Catholic values, and can apply them when the need arises.

The safest option is to designate a health care agent.

Z biurka wikariusza pastora

Drodzy Parafianie,

W dzisiejszej Ewangelii można odnieść wrażenie, że bogaty młodzieniec powinien był zaprzestać swojemu zachowaniu, póki był na dobrej drodze. Mówił do Jezusa: „Zachowywałem to wszystko”. Jednak, powinien był powiedzieć: „Dziękuję Ci, Panie, teraz jestem pewien mojego zbawienia”.

Niestety tego nie zrobił. Myślę, że wyraża to, co czujemy my wszyscy, gdy dochodzimy do wniosku, że jesteśmy stworzeni do wyższych celów, a nie tylko po to, żeby przetrwać.

Warto zauważyć, że papież Jan Paweł II używa tej historii, aby rozpocząć swoją encyklikę „Veritatis Splendor”. Dzieje się tak dlatego, że Jan Paweł II wiedział, iż musi nam pomóc zrozumieć katolicką naukę w kontekście „pełni wiary”. Wiedział, że istnieją kwestie moralne, które powstrzymują ludzi przed pełnym przyjęciem wiary. Wiedział również, że w niektórych okolicznościach łatwe odpowiedzi nie są właściwe. W „Veritatis Splendor” podejmuje krytykę najbardziej wpływowych katolickich i moralnych teologów, którzy wypaczyli katolicką moralność. Wypaczyli to, czego naucza Kościół, próbując złagodzić sumienia osób stojących przed trudnymi decyzjami moralnymi.

Weźmy pod uwagę odrzucenie encykliki „Humanae Vitae”, która oczywiście dotyczy kontroli urodzeń. Rozważmy parę, która boryka się z problemami finansowymi i uważa, że nie stać ich na kolejne dziecko. Świat mówi im: „Zignorujcie stanowisko Kościoła na temat antykoncepcji, ci ludzie w Rzymie nie mają pojęcia o prawdziwym życiu. Tylko ci 'fanatyczni katolicy' przestrzegają tych zasad”. Ale Jan Paweł II doskonale zdawał sobie sprawę, że takie rady przychodzą nie tylko od „światowych głosów”, ale także od teologów, biskupów i księży. Ci teologowie usprawiedliwiali nieposłuszeństwo, twierdząc po prostu, że w tej kwestii Kościół się myli. Jednak Jan Paweł II, podobnie jak Chrystus w tej encyklice, wiedział o trudnych sytuacjach ludzi i o tym, że ludzie są słabi, jeśli chodzi o podejmowanie pewnych ofiar, aby postępować właściwie. Jego podejście było współczujące, ale jednocześnie zgodne z niezmiennym nauczaniem o moralności seksualnej. Krótko mówiąc, potępił błędy nieposłusznych teologów, ponieważ nie możemy zmienić prawa naturalnego, na którym opiera się „Humanae Vitae”. Jego bezpośredni atak na „konsekwencjalizm” i „relatywizm”, które promowali ci sprzeciwiający się głosiciele, umiejscowił te trudne kwestie moralne w kontekście bycia „wielkimi katolikami”, a nie tylko katolikami, którzy robią minimum, by być zbawionymi. To dlatego zarówno Jan Paweł II, jak i papież Benedykt często w swoich naukach o moralności włączali naukę o męczeństwie. Innymi słowy, wiedzieli, że trudne okoliczności często stawiają nas w bardzo trudnej sytuacji.

Trzymanie się wysokich ideałów naśladowania Chrystusa często stawia nas w sytuacji podobnej do bogatego młodzieńca. Zawsze jest pokusa, by odejść od tego, czego Jezus od nas wymaga. Zarówno św. Jan Paweł II, jak i Benedykt XVI rozumieli przesłanie Chrystusa. Czasami jedyną właściwą odpowiedzią na bardzo trudny wybór jest męczeństwo. Często jesteśmy proszeni o zaakceptowanie negatywnych konsekwencji unikania grzechu, zamiast wybierać łatwą drogę i obrażać Boga. Czy nasze nieposłuszeństwo może zostać przebaczone? Oczywiście, że tak, jeśli jesteśmy szczerze żałujący. Ale nieposłuszni teologowie twierdzą, że nie ma za co żałować. Dzięki Bogu, że św. Jan Paweł II pojawił się wtedy, kiedy się pojawił. Potrzebujemy go teraz bardziej niż kiedykolwiek wcześniej.

Fr Thomas Koys, M.A., S.T.L.

Coming to St. Cyril & Methodius this Fall!

"The Children's Liturgy of the Word"

Be part of something new as you love God and serve his people.

Why? To help small children grades K-4 to better understand the Sunday readings and how the holy scriptures apply to their young lives.

How will it work?

1. Families with participating children will sit in the front seven pews in church during 9:30 AM Sunday Mass.
2. After the opening Mass prayers, a children's catechist and aide will approach the altar, and the children will quietly line up behind them.
3. The priest celebrating Mass will bless the group, and then they devoutly move from front of the church to the PLB meeting room.
4. During this special 10-15 minute session, the volunteer teacher leads the children through prayers, songs and readings that are simplified for children. The children learn about the same Scripture readings as the rest of the assembly. They will then recite the Creed together and pray for their intentions.
5. The children will return to their parents during the offertory.

When? Every week at 9:30 AM Mass beginning the first Sunday of Advent, December 1st until Mother's Day in May.

Can I help? We are now in need of volunteer adult leaders and co-leaders to be trained to implement this. We are also seeking 7th and 8th grade who need service hours as aides. To volunteer, contact Trish at 630-257-2776 or tnickleski@sscmlmont.org or Coleen at cmast@archchicago.org.

¹⁴ Jesus said, "Let the little children come to me, and do not hinder them, for the kingdom of heaven belongs to such as these." Matthew 19:14
